

This Is Going to Be a White Season Many Dainty Novelties to Be Seen

Fashion decreed it, and if the truth be told there were few protests, when the word went round that sheer white waists and handsome white skirts would be "quite the thing" this Summer. These dainty white weaves are like a breath of the Summer we are all longing for.

SEE OUR WHITE DISPLAY—NOW

PLAIN WHITE VOILES, crisp and sheer are preeminently the best for the pretty blouse or Summer frock, and nothing will launder better. There is a good 40-inch voile selling for only 89c, and in the 45-inch width we can offer two splendid values at $1.25 and $1.50.

VOILES IN STRIPE AND CHECK—designs are particularly pleasing as they add to the charm of the plain weave, the added daintiness of the pretty stripes and checks. We have them at 85c, 89c, and 95c, all being a yard wide.

EMBROIDERED AND LACE VOILES are simply exquisite this year. One glimpse of them and you will be planning just how the dress shall be made and anticipating your pleasure in wearing it. They cannot be resisted. The width is 36 inches and we have them at $1.10 and $1.25.

IMPORTED DOTTED SWISS at $1.50 and $2.00 is another dainty fabric which is proving popular. The domestic is not of such good quality, but for the children's dresses it is to be recommended. The price is 59c.

FLAXON is another white material which is attracting attention. It has the appearance of a fine linen, is 40 inches wide and in the plain sells for 65c and 69c. Striped and checked flaxon is 32 inches wide and is priced at 59c and 89c a yard.

WHITE ORGANDIES AND DIMITIES, too, are being largely used, the Organdies particularly being favorites. These are 45 inches wide and priced at 89c, $1.15 and $1.25. The Dimities, with its pretty stripes and checks is only 27 inches wide and sells for 59c a yard.

WASHABLE WHITE SKIRTINGS

Which Are Very Striking, at Prices Which Are Not Excessive

With linen sky-high the cotton weaves have developed, and if the truth be told there is no reason to feel sorry. The range of choice is so much wider, and the prices are so moderate. There's a handsome white Ratine, 42 inches wide at $2.00, or a stunning Satinette in the 32-inch width for only $1.75. There are lovely Stripes and Checks, a yard wide, for $1.50. There are splendid Poplins at 75c and $1.00 a yard, and sturdy Piques for 59c and $1.00, and last but not least, the finest bit of white Garbarine you ever saw for $1.50.

MORSE HAS GROTON IRON WORKS AGAIN

The plant of the Groton Iron Works is since more in control of the same interests, after having been administered for over a year by receivers who were appointed by the superior court when the financial difficulties of the concern brought on the receivership.

At 9 o'clock last Saturday night, the receivers turned the plant over to the Morse interests after attorneys for the Morse people had returned from Hartford where they had appeared before Judge John P. Kellogg and obtained from him an order showing that the assets of the plant had been released to the Groton Iron Works officials.

The Morse interests have complied with the order passed by Judge Kellogg in the superior court in New London last Wednesday. They have turned over to the receivers nearly $200,000 with which to make the 25 per cent cash payment to unsecured creditors according to agreement, and the receivers will start immediately to make these payments. With the making of the payment, the receivers, E. Leroy Harwood and Frederick C. Morse, will have completed their duties at the plant.

The two receivers are still at the plant for the purpose of completing the transfer. While the Morse interests have taken control, there has been no change in the organization of the plant, the Morses being represented at the yard by Attorney Burdett.

RECEPTION FOR 100TH BIRTHDAY OF MRS. HAKES

Mrs. Anna Woodward Hakes of Pasadena, Cal., whose daughter, Mrs. Charles W. Gale, resides at 1100 Park in this city, was 100 years old on Friday, March 26.

The Pasadena Star-News of that date says of the reception given in honor of Mrs. Hakes:

Mr. and Mrs. Milo C. Treat are entertaining today from 3 to 5 o'clock at their home, 98 North El Molino avenue, in honor of Mrs. Hakes, a mother of Mrs. Anna Woodward Hakes, who is celebrating her 100th birthday. A hundred or more friends are calling to extend congratulations on the notable occasion. Among the guests is her daughter, Mrs. Charles W. Gale, of Norwich, Conn., who has been spending the winter with her mother.

Mrs. Hakes was born in Preston, Conn., March 26, 1820, descendant of a long and distinguished line of ancestry who were pioneers in the settlement of Connecticut. In 1840 she was married to Henry B. Hakes, also of Preston. Shortly after their marriage they moved to Worcester, Mass., where Mr. Hakes was connected for over 30 years with the Ames Plow Company, manufacturer of agricultural implements. He also invented many other crops and implements and represented the company in the exposition at Sydney, Australia.

Of their seven children, two are still living. Mrs. Gale of Norwich and Mrs. Treat of Pasadena. With the latter Mrs. Hakes has made her home for the past 28 years. She has greatly enjoyed her life in California, and has crossed the continent, being 92 years old on her last trip to the east.

Receives Remembrances.

For many years Mrs. Hakes was a member of and contributor to the Central Baptist church of Norwich, Conn. Her last contribution of $1,000 was for the jubilee fund of the Women's American Baptist Foreign Missionary society.

Among many remembrances presented at the gathering were 100 carnations from a committee appointed by the First Baptist church of Pasadena, consisting of Mrs. J. E. Scott, Mrs. L. A. Boardway and Mrs. Ira J. H. Sykes.

Tribute Paid to Her.

The following address was given by Mrs. Seiden W. Cummings, wife of the pastor of the church:

"We feel deeply honored, Mrs. Hakes, in the unusual privilege of standing in the presence of one who today celebrates the 100th anniversary of her birth. We wish to add to the many congratulations and words of esteem from all over the country those of the people of the First Baptist church of Pasadena. With awe we recall some of the great events which have occurred during your lifetime: Lincoln elected president; the ascent to the throne and reign of Queen Victoria; the greatest and longest reigning sovereign of Great Britain; the Crimean, the Civil war, war with Spain, and the world war.

"You have not only seen the adoption of such innovations as the steam railway, the steamship, cable car, gas, the telephone, the electric light, the automobile, wireless and the airplane. You have also, God be thanked, lived to see the triumph of the forces of good, for which you so ardently prayed, in abolishment of slavery, the downfall of the saloon, national prohibition and lately the triumph of righteousness over militarism. Through these epoch-making times you truly filled a woman's place in home, church and state as a helpmeet, adviser, mother and homemaker, permeating always a strong joyous faith in God and indelibly stamping on the lives of your family the teaching of His Son Jesus Christ.

"We have had the joy of seeing three great countries open to the gospel, for at your birth Judson had just started the flame of Christian truth in India, and during your life Livingston carried light to the darkness of Africa, and Morrison gained his first converts to Christianity in China. Although you lived the simple Christian life in the home, in a remarkable way the influence of your life has been a factor through your kin and kin in furthering the aims and purposes of these princely men in the fast strongholds of heathendom.

"The world is indebted to you for having such daughters and son-in-law as Mrs. and Mr. C. Treat, Mrs. Charles Gale, who is present today. Two other daughters and a grand-daughter have worthily carried on your teaching.

"You have lived to see the birth of the New world and interchurch world movements, the great forward steps to help make the kingdom of this world ready for the King of Kings. As you face two worlds with the Christian's fearlessness we cannot look at you without recalling the words, 'The peace of God which passeth all understanding shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.'

LOW MENTALITY OFTEN WITH JUVENILE DELINQUENTS

Dr. Herbert M. Diamond, assistant secretary of the state child welfare commission, said Monday that in his investigations concerning juvenile delinquencies throughout Connecticut, he has found that in the majority of cases the children who are brought before an acceptance of low mentality. Dr. Diamond declares that such children are usually backward in school, and fail to be promoted because of this low mentality. Often times they become discouraged and lose interest in their work, and then fall into idleness.

Of the hundreds of delinquent children in Connecticut, it has been found that idleness led many of them to commit deeds that caused the courts to send them to state institutions. The child welfare commission is making a report to present to the next general assembly on the subject of delinquent children, and there is no doubt but that the statistics which are to be compiled will show that the low mentality of the children will be of interest not only to the legislators but to the public at large.

Federal investigators who have studied the conditions of juvenile delinquency in Connecticut have reported the following, as given out by Dr. Diamond today:

"Many children are placed on probation with the idea that it is possible for the probation officer to keep such subnormal children out of trouble in the future. Almost without exception the probation officers complain that cases are turned over to them in which it is hopeless to expect improvement. The efficiency of the probation service in the state is lowered by loading up the officers with a number of impossible cases. After probation has failed, the next step is to commit these children to the Connecticut State School for Boys or the Connecticut Industrial School for Girls. The task of conducting such a school is difficult at best, but it is rendered much harder by the presence of boys and girls who are subnormal mentally and who are a continuing source of trouble within the institution. There are to be found in the Connecticut Training School for Feeble-minded, at Lakewood, many children who had been arrested time and again as delinquents before an adequate mental examination proved them to be feeble-minded.

NORWICH TOWN

White banners with Easter mottoes in purple letters; lilies, hyacinths, tulips and variety of potted plants, comprised the decorations of the First Methodist Episcopal church, on Sunday. At the morning service a program of Easter music was given by Miss Edith M. Dodson, organist, and the church choir. In the anthem, "The Glorious King," by Lorenz, the alto and tenor duet by Mrs. Frederick H. Bushnell and Everett Fielding was finely sung. The pastor, Rev. William J. Crawford read the Easter lesson from the conversation of James with Cleopas and his companion while they walked to Emmaus, as related in Luke 24:13-35. Christ appeared to the men while they were talking about the Saviour. Likewise Christ will be near to us if He is foremost in our thought and life. These men were taught by Jesus while in the valley of despair. Had He made Himself known to them immediately they would have been too joyful to have heard the lesson which He had to teach them. So we in our adversity may receive blessings which would be impossible in days of joy. Before Christ left them He revealed His identity, giving them just what they needed—proof that He had risen from the dead. Christ always gives us just what is best for our highest good. These men on learning the glorious truth of the resurrection hastened to tell others the good news. Do we do so well?

In the evening the following program was carried out: Prayer, Rev. Mr. Crawford; dialogue, Easter Morning, Ines Edmiston and Augusta Miller; recitation, Easter Morning, Grace Mitchell; recitation, Wonderful Tidings, Gladys Cruikshank; song story, Philippa Junior choir, with Mrs. George Manning, reader, recitation, The Resurrection, Lewis Irish; hymn, Christ the Lord is Risen Today; benediction, Rev. Mr. Crawford.

There was no clergyman at the Sheltering Arms Sunday afternoon. The usual hour for service was devoted to a well rendered program by Miss Elizabeth Lane, violinist, assisted by Mrs. Olive Riley Roberts, soprano. The numbers follow: Piano solo, St. Olaf's Fiddlers.

Mrs. Roberts Borowski
Violin—Adoration
Song—The Day of Resurrection
Mrs. Roberts R. Schiller
Violin—Minuet
Song—Pilgrims' Chorus
Mrs. Roberts Wagner
Violin—The Maidens of the East
Chanson de Miet Bohm
Song—Requiem
Mrs. Roberts Chas. Gounod
Violin—Passacaglia
Song—Teach Me to Pray
J. M. Jewett

Miss Lane was heard with pleasure in her various selections, while the soprano solos by Mrs. Roberts were given in sweet voice. Mrs. Roberts also played sympathetically the piano accompaniments throughout the program.

At Sacred Heart church, Easter was observed with special music and decorations and there was a large attendance at the masses. The purple vestments worn by the priest during Lent were replaced by those of white, embroidered in gold. The altar was adorned with Easter and calla lilies, roses, carnations, and daffodils. Potted plants and palms were arranged about the sanctuary. Typical of the light that shone among the Gentiles was the Paschal candle at the gospel side of the altar. At the 8:30 o'clock mass the singing by the children was full of sweetness and in good harmony. At the 10 o'clock service Rosemary's high mass was sung by the choir, assisted by Mrs. Morgan Cronin and Carl Lyons, who well sustained the solo parts. The singing at the mass was in church music. Miss Elizabeth A. Malone, The pastor, Rev. Charles W. Brennan read the gospel of the day from Mark 16:1-7. And when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, had brought sweet spices, that they might come and anoint Jesus. Rev. Father Brennan spoke impressively on Christ's sufferings and death. His glorious resurrection and ascension into heaven; hence Easter is a day of great rejoicing. Christ showed by His death His great love for us. By living righteously and justly, we will one day enjoy the great happiness of eternity with Him, St. Paul said.

Commands American Forces In Germany

The man in command of American forces in Germany is Major General Henry T. Allen, who has more than 13,000 American troops under his command at Rhine bridgeheads. Official reports indicate there is order in and about Cologne, where American troops are stationed, and it is not believed there will be any movement by these troops unless there are disorders.

"WIDOW'S MITE" IS SENT FOR "ONE POOR BABY"

A touching response to the Easter call of the Near East relief came on Monday to the Norwich treasurer of the fund. It was the "widow's mite," a crisp new five dollar bill, that came through the mail to Mrs. Clarence D. Sevin of 28 Bliss place, with nothing to show the identity of the donor. Wrapped around the $5 was a piece of paper on which in a cramped handwriting, apparently that of an old person, were these words and signature:

WIDOW.
Several other contributions to the fund have been received since the Easter appeal was published in The Bulletin, but none that has touched the hearts of those interested so much as this offering from the anonymous donor.
